

SAN FRANCISCO BAY RESTORATION AUTHORITY

How to Get Your Project Added to the SFBJV Project List

One of the Authority's Measure AA grant funding Prioritization Criteria is consistency with the San Francisco Bay Joint Venture's (SFBJV) List of Ongoing and Potential Wetland Habitat Projects associated with its implementation strategy.

The SFBJV has a 20-year history of vetting and promoting restoration projects, and for this reason the Authority's enabling legislation calls for consistency with their project list.

To have your project considered for adoption by SFBJV:

1. Start by entering information about your project into EcoAtlas Project Tracker at <https://ptrack.ecoatlas.org/>.
2. Select SFBJV as the administrative region.
3. You will then need to request that the project be "adopted" by SFBJV by emailing Jemma Williams, Conservation Coordinator, SFBJV – jwilliams@sfbayjv.org. Include the project name exactly as entered into EcoAtlas Project Tracker with your request.

First, it will be evaluated for eligibility by SFBJV staff. If eligible, it will be reviewed by the Conservation Committee (CC), and if recommended by the CC, considered for adoption by the SFBJV Management Board. For more information and/or to initiate the process, contact Jemma Williams, Conservation Coordinator, SFBJV – jwilliams@sfbayjv.org.

The Authority encourages grant applicants to have projects considered for adoption by the SFBJV prior to the deadline for the Authority's competitive grant round, usually in the fall of each year, so that, if the project is adopted, that information can be included in the application. Below are links to information about adoption criteria:

- Guidelines for the adoption of tidal and other wetland projects can be found here;
- The adoption and support of subtidal habitat protection, restoration and enhancement criteria is here.